

THE CITY.

A chivalrous individual was arrested on Saturday night charged with beating his wife. He will have a hearing on Monday before the Police Court.

Religious Notes.—Rev. A. J. Baird, pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, will continue his sermon to-day—morning and evening—on the subject of the "Resurrection."

The Race Yesterday.—In the first race, but three in five, White Stocking won the first two heats, and Kentucky the three following.

In the second race, between Redoubt and Cadmus, the latter won.

Match Game.—The first nine of the Forest and the first nine of the Plum Branch Club played a match game yesterday, in which the Forest came off victorious. The score stood as follows: Forest 35; Plum 5.

Religious Notes.—The usual religious services will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, corner Church and Summer streets, to-day at 11 a. m. and 6 p. m., by the Pastor, Rev. B. F. Bunting.

The weather yesterday was cloudy and cold. Winter has stolen a sudden march upon us during the last few days, and is evidently coming upon us with a vengeance. Had the weather clerk so desired a respectable snow storm might have been gotten up without much trouble.

COLLECTIONS are constantly being made, of food and clothing, for the suffering poor of the South. We are glad to see that in many places societies are being organized for this express purpose, and that the people who possess means are contributing liberally. This is commendable and shows the proper spirit.

A New Police Court Room.—By order of the City Council the upper room in the south end of the market house is to be fitted up as a police court room, the present being too small and inconvenient. On Monday the work of fitting up will be commenced, and probably by the close of the week the Recorder will be able to take possession of his new quarters.

CHANGING OF TIME TABLE.—On and after tomorrow, November 26th, the passenger trains on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad will run as follows:

Leave Nashville..... 5 a. m. and 12 noon.
Arrive Louisville..... 7 p. m. and 9 p. m.
Leave Louisville..... 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
Arrive Nashville..... 5 a. m. and 6 p. m.

COMPETITION.—The Southern route received on Friday twenty-two bales of cotton for Boston, which had previously been delivered to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. This route, in time and low rates, certainly possesses great advantages. When fully known, we doubt not it will compete successfully with any other route to the East. Shippers are already beginning to appreciate these advantages.

REVIVAL OF RELIGION.—A protracted revival of religion at Antioch Baptist Church, in this county, terminated Thursday night, and resulted in forty or fifty converts. The Rev. Mr. Whitsett was the officiating minister. A revival which has been in progress at Thompson's Chapel, (Methodist), on the Nolensville pike, six miles from the city, was brought to a close a few evenings ago, having resulted in about forty conversions.

OUR thanks to Mr. George Leiper, for specimens of excellent cutting and drying apples, grown on his place near the city. He speaks from experience when he says that our soil and climate will produce a fine, well-flavored and abundant crop of this fruit as any part of the country—and that not one barrel should be imported, but enough produced at home for our own consumption, and a great many more to send away to other markets.

A SAD AFFAIR.—The Gazette of this city in its Friday's issue contained the announcement of the death by a painful accident of Mrs. A. B. Hendrick, of Dickson county, the sister of James T. Bell, Esq., an editor and proprietor of that paper. The lady had been the subject of epilepsy for some years, and fell while alone in a convulsion so near the city that the neighbors were alarmed, and she was killed.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES.—It will be recollected that at the last session of the City Council a bill passed authorizing the Mayor to license private detectives for an indefinite period of time, not to exceed one year. Yesterday four gentlemen were licensed and sworn in, viz: Larry Ryan, Joe Chatham, James Henson and Wm. C. Collier.

We recommend these gentlemen to the public who may need their services, as prompt, thorough and energetic officers, who are all experienced men, and worthy of confidence.

The old Taylor depot, one of the most celebrated government storehouses in the South, has ceased to exist, passed away like other vestiges of the war which have disappeared. It was one of the institutions of Nashville not a great while ago, and has contained millions of dollars' worth of army supplies. It was recently sold, has been torn down, and the material of which it was composed carried away. All that was left on Saturday were the posts, and a few beams and rafters, upon which the structure rested; these have been purchased by a negro for three hundred dollars, and will be put into wood.

ANOTHER ENTERTAINMENT for the benefit of disabled Confederate soldiers, is to be given at the New Theatre, on Wednesday evening next, consisting of Concert and Pantomime. Some of our sweetest song birds have volunteered their assistance and a rich musical treat may be anticipated. The novelty of a Pantomime by amateurs, is something entirely new in its character, and of itself should be an attraction sufficient to fill the house to overflowing. We look forward to this entertainment with much pleasure, and feel sure that it will produce sufficient means to pay for the entire cost of the Society, and also furnish many a poor fellow with limbs which were sacrificed to the "lost cause."

IMPORTANT TO BUSINESS MEN.—The following from the Pittsburg Gazette, a sketch of a business house in that city, admirably illustrates our views:

"In an interview with one of our most liberal patrons, a few days since, we inquired his experience in the policy of advertising. We regard his answer as noteworthy, and commend it to the consideration of others. He said the same kind of business in which he is engaged has been carried on at that stand for ten years by one, and nearly ten by another predecessor. That these men gave diligent attention to their business, were sober and frugal, but spent nothing for advertising. They were just barely able to eke out a living. They were debilitated by the increased expenses of the first year; that subsequently he increased his expenses to several thousand dollars annually for advertising, and the result has demonstrated its marvelous utility, and he is to-day worth $100,000, and his annual profits are constantly increasing."

THE FOGG BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—A week or two ago, a society bearing the above name was organized by the members of Christ Church. The object of the association is to find out the poor of city who are in need of assistance, and help them along, either by giving them work to do, or relieving their wants in some other manner. Before extending aid to those who may apply, the society appoints one or two of its members to visit their homes and ascertain whether they are worthy or not. This step is considered necessary from the fact that there are many persons begging through the city who are well able to earn their own subsistence. We hope to see all the other Churches organize similar societies, confident that in so wide a field a vast amount of suffering can be relieved, and great good accomplished during the coming winter. The following are the officers of the recently organized society: Wm. Cooper, President; Mrs. Kirkman, Vice President; Mrs. F. B. Fogg, Corresponding Secretary; Wm. F. Fogg, Recording Secretary; Mr. D. Blackie, Treasurer.

RECORDED IN COURT.—The past week has been one of unusual activity in police circles. The number of delinquents presented before the City Court for offences against the municipal laws, exceed any previous week since the inauguration of the present presiding officer. At a recent session, we would estimate the fines and costs assessed, for the week ending yesterday, at $1,500 to $2,000.

The fine and costs at Judge Foster's levee, yesterday morning, amounted to $275.

The following docket was presented:

Nellie Johnson was charged with disorderly conduct. The defendant in this case is the "woman" of a man named Fred. Delpe, who runs the beer garden at the terminus of the street railway, known as the Fairfield Palace. At a hall given at the "palace" on Thursday night last, she became jealous of Delpe's attention to the nymphs there assembled, and proceeded to chastise him by striking him over the head with a bottle, creating a disturbance in the hall, and causing her to be arrested by the police. She was taken to the officers when taken into custody. The Judge imposed a fine of $54.

A man named Lowery was picked up by the police on Friday night, charged with disorderly conduct. He was fined $5.

John O'Neill (not our friend John of the Fenian) pleaded guilty of taking more of the "crates" than he was licensed to carry, and was dismissed on payment of $5.

Charles Nicholson and a man named Cassidy, charged for disorderly conduct. Nicholson's face presented the appearance of severe punishment. The only evidence in the case was that Nicholson was holding on to Cassidy, who told him to let go, and not to follow him, when Cassidy struck him several blows with his fist. Nicholson was discharged, and Cassidy fined $54.

Black Brudner, of Wilson county, and his brother, on Friday, went on a spree, and landed in the workhouse. He deposited $5 to the credit of the city.

Regina Edwards, a member of the sixteenth Regulars, was arrested Friday night for being drunk and disorderly. He stated to the arresting officer that he wanted to go to the police station, that if he was in camp, he would have to testify before a court martial against a comrade, and that his evidence would set him to the penitentiary.

Michael Ryan arrived Friday on a steamer from New Orleans. In his pretensions through the city, he fought the Patterson Hotel and took lodgings. He pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, and was let off on payment of $5.

Charles Wilson, proprietor of the Fairfield Palace, was called to answer the charge of walking with a prostitute, Nellie Johnson. His plea was that she was his house-keeper, but it did not avail, and he was fined to the extent of the law.

G. J. Rock was arrested for disorderly conduct on complaint of a negro, who charged him with being drunk and threatening him, under the following circumstances: Rock, a colored man, a gentleman, was procured laborers to pick cotton on a plantation below Memphis. It was agreed between the defendant and the prosecuter that the latter should receive $1 per hundred for picking cotton, and have his board, washing and transportation free. Rock got a saloon keeper named Jennings to draw up the contract, and signed the negro's name himself. When asked to make his mark, the negro refused, telling them the contract did not specify that his name was to be put there; that he could sign his own name, having been educated in Ohio, and that "no white man could write his name." Jennings testified that the negro refused to sign the contract, and left off by mistake. After the boy left the saloon, Rock followed and threatened him with a pistol, but did not succeed in getting him to go back and sign the contract. He was fined $5.

Charles Phelps, a very good looking young man, said he was a stranger in the city, and was on his way to Atlanta. He was arrested by the police for being drunk on the street, and was allowed to pursue his journey on payment of $5.

George Wilson, colored, for whipping his wife was fined $25 and sent to the workhouse.

THE DEAD.—A TOUCHING TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF CAPTAIN ST. CLAIR MORGAN, FROM THE DEPT. OF A FELLOW SOLDIER.—In a forthcoming work, by a prison companion of the lamented subject of this notice, we observe the following touching tribute to one of Tennessee's most noble sons. We knew "St. Clair" well; and if he had fault for who has them not—he alone, for them in the gallant fight made in a great cause, and died with his face to the foe, whom he had met in many a hard-fought field, one of the host of martyrs whose lives were offered to the Moloch of cruel war.

MILAM MORGAN, JOHNSON'S ISLAND, June 18, 1862.—Among our exiled spirits none take precedence of Captain St. Clair Morgan, of the glorious Tenth Tennessee, that famous regiment of chivalrous soldiers, with whom to be courageous was a necessity, as bravery and a member of the Tenth were synonymous terms. St. Clair, or Cinc Morgan, as we call him in the West, is one of the noblest spirits of our race, and his life, having been a constant struggle with a highly cultivated intellect, is a model to all who wish to be great. He was a man of high character, and his conversation, jeweled with the choicest literary offerings. With these he furnished his men from time to time, the beauty of which does so much to dispel the dreariness of prison life. St. Clair Morgan, who entered the service of the State of South Carolina on December 24th, 1860; that of the Confederate States on January 1st, 1862. He was killed at the battle of Nashville, June 18th, 1862. But with all his gallantry and manliness, there is much of the gentlest of spirits in our midst. We ask, St. Clair for a souvenir for our little one, as we ever get out to give it to her—and here it is:

"On parent knee, a naked, new-born child, weeping, you said, while all around thee smiled, 'So, that, sinking in thy last, long sleep, Thou may'st smile, while all around thee weep.'"

Of such was his emotion, expressed upon the pages of many offerings from thinking prisoners to the dear ones at home, for whose tender love St. Clair Morgan is ever sympathetic and considerate, and in a score of cases has his selections and original thoughts embossed the little volumes, that will be dear to us in after life as in memory of many a noble spirit, that now sleeps the sleep of the brave, after life's fatal fever.

St. Clair Morgan is dead, and as yet we have no word from him. "Scrape from Prison Life" have not been published. But what we said of him in the military prison of Johnson's Island, we repeat to-day. No more gallant gentleman or generous spirit than Captain St. Clair Morgan ever drew a sword, or more finished scholar wield a pen. Had he lived, and his spirit that prompted him to deeds of impulse, been calmed by time, there are few better names we could have named with a brighter luster upon the historic page than that of our friend, ST. CLAIR MORGAN.

EXAMINATION OF HENRY BRUNER.—HE IS BOUND OVER TO THE CRIMINAL COURT IN A BOND OF $5,000.—We stated in yesterday morning's issue that the trial of Henry Bruner, a gentleman well known in this city through his connection with the Government during the war, was in progress, before Esquires Wilkinson, Patterson and Sloan, and that the charge preferred against him was the obtaining of a note for $4,000, from Messrs. Ramsey & Bay with intent to commit fraud.

The prosecution was conducted by Messrs. McClannahan & Clark. Judge John S. Brien appeared for the defense.

The examination commenced on Friday, at one o'clock p. m., and testimony taken up to four o'clock, when the court adjourned until one o'clock yesterday. The case was taken up yesterday at the appointed hour, and closed at 4 p. m.

The testimony of Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Bay was similar in every respect. They stated that on the 23d of December, 1865, Mr. Bruner came to their place of business and asked them to loan him that note for $4,000; that Ebb Deane owed him $7,000, and he wanted it in order to get a settlement out of him; that he would return them the note the next day. They drew up the note as requested, and gave it to Mr. B. with that understanding. Mr. Bruner did not return the note, and on the contrary kept it, and in the month of May, 1866, sued out an attachment against their property for the sum of $4,244. They advised with Mr. East, and he informed them that the attachment was not drawn up properly, and was of no force. They replied the property attached, and supposed the matter was dropped, until the 20th of the present month, when a new attachment was levied upon their property—this time for $5,000. Then they determined to prosecute Bruner for obtaining the note under false pretenses.

On cross examination, both witnesses denied that Mr. Bruner had advanced them any money to establish their brick yard; that he had loaned them $1,000, but they had paid him, and when the note in question was drawn up they did not see it.

A brother of Mr. Ramsey was present when the note was drawn up, and corroborated the testimony of the first two witnesses in regard to the note being simply a loan in order to aid Bruner in getting a settlement out of Deane.

Those having claims against the Government, etc., would do well to call on Capt. S. B. Brown & Son, 61 Church street. They are gentlemen of reliable standing, and their advertisement elsewhere.

INSOLVENT, at the Postoffice, has all the December magazines and the literary and illustrated papers for the current week; also, the latest dailies.

The principal witness for the defense was E. H. East, Esq., attorney at law, who when Ramsey & Bay advised him that the attachment was levied, he stated that in the conversation about the merits of the note, neither Ramsey nor Bay said it was fraudulent, and that they claimed a credit of $1,000, which they paid Bruner had not been offered against it. That Ramsey & Bay also informed him that they started in the brick making business, Mr. Bruner had advanced them a sum of money—he thinks the amount stated was $1,000—which he (Bruner) was to receive back and in addition was to receive the title of the property for the first year. Mr. East subsequently met Mr. Bruner, and was informed by him that a credit of $1,000 was due on the note, and that he (Bruner) had paid it. He was then informed that he was in a quandary, and was told by the parties that they would not pay it, and it could not be made. They did not tell him the note was obtained by fraud. Several other witnesses were examined, but we believe the above presents the leading points of the evidence on both sides.

The argument was presented by Mr. Clark for the prosecution, who was followed by Judge John S. Brien, for the defense. Mr. McClannahan, on the part of the State closed the argument.

The merits of the case, on both sides, were able, learned, and displayed great legal ability. An attempt to report even a synopsis of their arguments, we feel satisfied, would do them an injustice.

At the close of the argument the magistrate retired for consultation. They were out only about five minutes, and their return announced that the court was unanimous in the decision that the defendant be bound over in a bond of $5,000 to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Mr. Bruner gave the required bond and was released from custody.

A CHALLENGE DECLINED BY AN EDITOR.—Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, who spent several weeks in Nashville during the late war, and who is now Secretary of Montana Territory, feeling aggrieved at some comments upon his official conduct that appeared in the columns of the Montana Post, sent a challenge to the editor, Captain Henry A. Blake, formerly of the 11th Massachusetts regiment. In reply to the challenge, Capt. Blake, who refuses to fight, stigmatized Meagher as a liar, and rejected the challenge, and said that if he never heard or witnessed a duel in his glorious army. While feeling no animosity to Meagher, he considers it his right and duty, and will with absolute articles of public men.

The Captain concludes thus: "You may publish me as a coward, but my scars, which this incident has reminded me, will proclaim that the charge is false. Two warrants and three commissions, which were received by me during the late rebellion for my services in twenty-one campaigns, and the fact that I was a member of the 11th Massachusetts regiment, will attest the truth of my statement. In conclusion, I will assert that your letter and conduct do not improve me in any degree. While I occupy my post as editor of the Montana Post, I shall have no hesitation in expressing my views regarding them."

THE RAILROAD ROBBERS—THEY ARE TURNED OVER TO THE CIVIL AUTHORITIES.—Application having been made by due form, and the proper time having arrived for disposing of the railroad robbers, held in confinement by the military at Louisville, ten of them were on Friday ordered to be sent underground to Frankfort for trial by the civil courts. The following is a copy of General Davis' order:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE TENNESSEE:—Commanding officer of the 2d U. S. Infantry, Taylor Barracks: Sir—The Major General commanding this Department has the honor to inform you that ten of the railroad robbers, now in your charge, under a guard, in charge of a commissioned officer, to Frankfort, Ky., on to-morrow morning's train, which starts at 7 a. m., and take them over to Brigadier Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Leib, commanding detachment of 5th United States Cavalry, at Frankfort, Ky., to be there received by Wm. P. Kipp, John Collier, Robin Gray, (negro), David R. Wainwright, J. M. Payne and C. F. Smith. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant. JOHN A. DAVIS, Major General.

Three of the prisoners, Robert Heister, J. A. Price and John Finch, are retained in confinement at the military prison, but for what reason we are uninform.

ACCIDENT ON THE LOUISVILLE AND KENTUCKY RAILROAD.—ONE MAN KILLED AND THREE WOUNDED.—On Friday evening a construction train of the Louisville and Kentucky railroad was wrecked with a frightful accident, which resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of three others. The train was backing up from Rocky Top towards Springfield, and when about six miles from the latter town and twenty-one miles from this city ran over a cow, and then proceeded at a rapid rate through a narrow cut. The cars were thrown from the track and jammed together into a fearful mass of ruins. One man, named John, was instantly killed, being fearfully crushed and mangled. The foreman of the gang, Mr. John Bean, was also severely injured, as were likewise two other men, employees of the company. The seven fatal casualties the train were, as before stated, badly smashed up, but the engine sustained little or no damage.

NIGHT TRAINS OVER THE LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD TO BE GUARDED.—The Louisville Democrat states that at the request of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, General Thomas has furnished a guard of soldiers for all night trains over the road. This is the best method of protecting trains from marauders, and our citizens can now travel or ship over this road without apprehension of danger to life or property.

A REMARKABLE AFFAIR.—A very strange occurrence is said to have taken place at Rocky Top, Tenn. The premises are occupied by Messrs. Crane & Wisner, well known tobaccoists and cigar dealers. For a long time past, two wooden Indians have been stationed at the door of the establishment. These imitations sons of the forest were recently found to be in earnest conversation with each other. It transpired that they were expressing their admiration of the new stock of incenseburning pipes and other fancy articles just received from the East. They were also expressing their regret that they were not permitted to smoke anything of the kind, or to receive any of the new articles of fancy. In addition, Messrs. Crane & Wisner have received a number of Turkish smoking apparatus, which are used by two individuals at one time. We advise everybody to go and examine these articles.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.—We desire to call the attention of all parties having claims, of whatever character, against the United States Government, to the advertisement of Messrs. Paramore, Sowers & Co., to be found in this morning's issue. They are one of the oldest established in the city, and they have met with almost unparalleled success in procuring the claims of soldiers and sailors, and in facilitating the collection of claims. Their office is at No. 25 North Cherry street.

WITHOUT INTEREST.—Messrs. Callender & Garrett, and J. L. & R. W. Brown will sell, to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock, in the immediate vicinity of Buena Vista Springs and the terminus of the North Nashville Street Railroad, the owner of this property is desirous to sell it if bidders will attend the sale. The terms are unusually easy, being six, twelve, eighteen, twenty-four and thirty months without interest. A lien of the first note is paid in cash, without interest or security. Corporation checks will be taken at par in cash, where such payments are made.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—J. G. Roberts, trustee, will offer for sale on Tuesday, Nov. 27, a valuable tract of land containing 90 acres, 50 acres cleared and 40 acres timbered, and a few acres of pasture, this property are in excellent repair, the dwelling is a fine two story brick house, containing several rooms, servants' rooms, a large kitchen, a good barn, ice house, apple and peach orchard, plenty of stock water, and a never-failing spring, unsurpassed by any, and an excellent spring house. This land is situated at Antioch station, nine miles from the city. Persons desiring to attend can leave Nashville on the train at 7:40 a. m., and return at 2 p. m.

Those having claims against the Government, etc., would do well to call on Capt. S. B. Brown & Son, 61 Church street. They are gentlemen of reliable standing, and their advertisement elsewhere.
